Autumn

Every new season brings change. This year, autumn left changes in color on the Hamilton campus and also changes in Hamilton as an institution. While leaves turned colors and fell from the trees, the Beinecke Student Village was completed, and the finishing touches were placed on the newly remodeled residence halls South and Carnegie. Most significantly, the Board of Trustees elected a new president. Eugene M. Tobin, who had been the acting president since President Payne's resignation.

In addition to being a season of significant change, Autumn was unquestionably the most beautiful season at Hamilton. When the nights became a little cooler, mother nature began to spin her magic, covering the green landscape of the Hill with a quilt of yellow, orange, and crimson red. In the crisp autumn air, students dressed in brightly colored, warm sweaters, not wanting to yield to the need to wear a winter coat. Autumn was the season for football games on the quad, ultimate frisbee on minor field, pumpkin carving, and Halloween parties. Traditionally it was also the time for mudsliding:, a favorite past time for Hamilton students on warm, rainy nights.

Unfortunately, the warmth and brilliance of autumn could not last forever, and was soon frozen away beneath layers of ice and snow. But when the pictures returned from being developed, the memories lived on.

WinterW

It seemed that winter was one of the most memorable seasons for Hamilton students. That could be because we were snowed under for five of the nine months that we spent on the Hill each year. From November through March, we battled the snow, ice, and freezing cold temperatures to cross the campus for class. Hearing the list of local school closings on the radio each morning, we all secretly prayed that Hamilton too would succumb to the forces of nature. Finally, one afternoon in March, our dreams came true and classes were cancelled for the first time in more than ten years.

The oppressive winter cold kept us locked up in our winter coats and boots for much of the year. However, we still managed to convert the bleak, snow-covered terrain into a winter wonderland. Most of us were guilty, at one time or another, of provoking a snowball fright among friends. Cross country and downhill skiing, ice skating, and hockey were also popular winter sports. Though for the more daring winter enthusiasts, the ledges of any second or third story window were platforms for Hamilton's own Kamikaze snow bank jumping.

Each winter on the Hill was a new challenge, but walking cautiously across the ice covered Martin's Way, we were able to catch a few glimpses of winter's beauty: the icicles hanging delicately from the trees, the timid dance of each fragile, falling snowflake. These sights made us appreciate the season to some extent; yet, if nothing else, for every seven foot snow bank, we gained a greater appreciation for spring.

Snowed

Under...

Look....

Once the April sun rose and began to melt away the reminders of winter's treacherous climate, we marveled at the almost forgotten land beneath the piles of snow. Cars that had been given up for lost slowly appeared in a melting bank of sloppy snow. The benches along Martin's Way were operational once again, and students paused there for a moment to enjoy the 45 degree weather.

Granted, "spring" in Central New York did not always adhere to the true meaning of the word; the snow lingered well into April, accompanied by rain and knee-deep puddles. However, to some, the simple act of packing away the scarves and winter jackets was a tremendous relief. The bright sunshine and relatively warm breeze across the Hill on a dry spring day was enough to lift everyone's spirits.

For others, this wet season was more of a frustration than anything. Discovering that one's shoes were no longer waterproof provided a rude awakening into spring. Sports teams were at the mercy of the weather. Late season snowfalls and torrential rains greatly reduced their playing time.

Generally though, the allure of spring at Hamilton was that it signified the end of a harsh winter. Once the snow began to vanish, we knew that class and charter day, finals, and graduation could not be far away.

SEASONS '94

Summer?

For approximately one and one half weeks out of every year, the area of the quad between North and Carnegie took on the character of a highly populated beach in mid summer. Just in time for finals week, the temperature climbed above eighty degrees, coaxing students from their rooms out into the warm sunshine. Across the quad, blankets, towels, and lounge furniture (not to mention televisions and umbrellas to block the glare on the sets) were carefully placed by men and women eager to indulge in a little sun worshipping.

It was finally May. The great month for pre-summer sun tanning, playing horseshoes, taking long, relaxing walks with the warmth of the sun on your face. Unfortunately, this beautiful weather signaled the advent of final papers, final exams, term projects.... All of these nagging pressures remained in the back of students' minds as they relaxed for just one hour, or maybe two, or five,....

Those last few sunny days on the Hill were cherished by all. Too soon would come the end of the semester and friends would have to go their separate ways for the summer. For underclassmen, parting was not such sweet sorrow, for they knew that their Hamilton experience would continue in the fall. However, the soon-to-be-graduates of the class of 1994 held on to these days, for soon only memories of Hamilton would linger in their minds.

Karen Green, Director of Multicultural Affairs

You have been an inspiration to all of us, students and faculty alike. Your dynamic personality has motivated us to take a stand for our beliefs. Your spirituality and understanding have taught us to work together and learn from each other. Your lessons have helped us to grow in so many ways. Thank you for touching all of our lives with your magical grace. We wish you all the best as you answer your call to ministry; you will always hold a place in our hearts.

Sis,

You endeared yourself to me before you were given the appointment; you were a breath of fresh air to this campus. We welcomed you with open arms and learned from you. Your presence on this campus will be felt for a long time: keep up the fight. The ones you leave behind will do the same; one person can make a difference! You are now my family and will be a part of me forever. The blood in our veins is the same.

Godspeed and Love,

Theresa

How many years have you been at Hamilton and why did you choose to work here? I'm in my 14th year at Hamilton. I came as an assistant professor of history. I was extremely fortunate to obtain a position at a small liberal arts school.

What is your favorite season of the year and why? I like the informality of summer. I love walking from my home to the office, having the opportunity to play tennis and golf, and most important is the sunshine, especially up here.

Could you comment on any positive or negative changes that you currently see occurring at Hamilton? I see a willingness of students to engage one another in discussion without anger. This is a wonderful compliment to the kind of students we attract at Hamilton. In the future, I hope to see continued willingness of students to become more respectful of others.

When you think of Hamilton, what is the first concern that comes to mind? Could you offer any solutions or insights to this situation. Improving the equality of admission. Our future depends on the quality of our students and faculty. We are taking many steps to increase our national visibility, identifying strengths of Hamilton that can be differentiated from other small liberal arts schools. We all have the opportunity to be ambassadors for Hamilton. This will take a little bit of time but we have the resources and energy to strengthen the college's ability to attract the nation's best students.

How would you describe your role in the Hamilton community? I think a president's role is to create a vision for the future and then to create a consensus in the community toward that vision and to work hard to ensure that everyone believes in it.

Where do you see yourself and/or Hamilton ten years from now? Ten years from now I'd like to be having this same conversation in this same room. I can see Hamilton being a college known for academic distinction, a college that provides educational value and equity for all of our students.

How many years have you spent at Hamilton and why did you choose to work here? This is my fourth year at Hamilton. I chose to work here because it was a challenging job, a job in transition. It was a position that was pulling together my past experiences.

What is your favorite season of the year and why? Fall. I consider myself a very spiritual person and I consider fall the best of "all of God's splendor." When I see the vivid reds and oranges and golds, that to me are so inviting, I think what a fabulous exterior decorator! I find fall as a beginning, the beginning of another school year, the culmination of hard work, a time to reap what you've sown.

Could you comment on any positive or negative changes that you currently see occurring at Hamilton? I have felt a more content and happier student body, generally speaking. There has been an increased amount of student activity on this campus, thanks to Bev Low. We are isolated on this hill, but I would argue against students who feel there's nothing to do.

When you think of Hamilton, what is the first concern that comes to mind? Could you offer any solutions or insights to this situation? I guess I always ask myself, is Hamilton really the place we say we are in our publications? I think we are really trying to be, but it takes a lot of work. It will take the ability to look at ourselves critically, to accept constructive criticism and to make recommendations and move forward with changes.

How would you describe your role in the Hamilton community? A student advocate. A teacher. A counselor. A friend. A mediator. But all for affirming and validating student life, and that's all student life.

Where do you see Hamilton ten years from now? If the demographics of American society have reached the point we say it will Hamilton should be a much more diverse community. The question is: Is Hamilton laying the appropriate groundwork to realistically face the challenges ten years from now?

Why did you choose to work at Hamilton College? I came to Hamilton because it was an incredible opportunity to be working with such a high caliber of students and to manage the brand new Beinecke Village.

What is your favorite season of the year and why? Definitely autumn. I'm a turtleneck sweater type of person. I particularly like to hike and mountain bike on a cool day. Fall smells good.

Could you comment on any positive or negative changes that you currently see occurring at Hamilton? What I'm hearing from the students is , things are changing for the better, student involvement is increasing, more students are getting involved as individuals and as groups.

When you think of Hamilton, what is the first concern that comes to mind? Could you offer any solutions or insights to this situation? I guess the biggest concern that comes to me is mutual respect for differing viewpoints. People don't seem to disagree properly. We really need to do more training with student leaders about appreciating individual differences.

How would you describe your role in the Hamilton community? A mentor, a drill sergeant and a cheerleader, if that makes any sense. I can provide people with education outside of the classroom, on life skills. I have very high expectations for my staff and for the students I work with. I also see myself as giving unconditional support because everyone makes mistakes.

Where do you see yourself and/or Hamilton ten years from now? Hamilton, I would see as one of the premiere liberal arts institutions in the country in less than ten years. We are already moving forward in providing students with a dynamic, challenging and multi-faceted learning environment. Myself, I would like to have my PhD in higher education and be teaching graduate students, preparing them to enter the field of student affairs. I try to be a teacher as much as I can now. I thrive on student contact, it really keeps me going.

DOUGLAS AMBROSE

How many years have you spent at Hamilton and why did you choose to work here? I came mid-year in 1990 as a replacement. From the beginning I was very happy. This is the type of place I wanted to work at in terms of size and selectivity.

Could you comment on any positive or negative changes you currently see occurring at Hamilton? I think one positive change is our student body and faculty becoming more diverse. This change provides for a community that more closely resembles our society. A negative change I see is a decline in the level of discourse, I see many people talking past each other. There is a certain intolerance that is not desired or appropriate at a liberal arts school. I would like to see a return to civil, serious discourse and the notion of listening even when we disagree. My hope is that we continue to increase intellectual activity on campus, and that we continue to attract mature students that like to be challenged intellectually.

When you think of Hamilton, what is the first concern that comes to mind? Not to slip into the mediocrity that plagues our culture. The solution is to attact and keep students who will utilize the first rate faculty and intellectual resources we have at Hamilton. This would enhance both student and faculty life.

How would you describe your role in the Hamilton community? I try to help people recognize the richness and complexity of human history. I try to help people learn how to think and how to understand the ways in which human beings have tried to construct and live in the world. The other part of my role is to contribute to the community outside of the classroom primarily by talking to people and listening to people.

Where do you see yourself and/or Hamilton ten years from now?
More diverse geographically, as well as ethnically and racially. Hamilton will hopefully continue to be a respected institution and an interesting and challenging place for students, as well as professors, to spend their time. Physically there might not be any changes but hopefully there will be a stronger academic environment.

1. How many years have you spent at Hamilton and why did you choose to work here?

In 1978 I chose to work at Kirkland College and then later came to Hamilton College.

2. What is your favorite season of the year and why?

Summer is my favorite season because I can pace my work to my desire and I don't have to work evenings. I also enjoy the weather, touring on my bike, and hiking.

3. Could you comment on any positive or negative changes

I think one positive change is the recent increase in the emphasis on academic excellence. I also like the attempt to better integrate academic and social life. On the negative side, I am concerned about what seems to be an increase in Balkanization among segments of the student population.

4. When you think of Hamilon, what is the first concern that comes to mind? Could you offer any solutions or insights to this situation?

My biggest concern is our complacency. There are significant numbers of administrators, faculty and students who seem persuaded that we are already doing things the "right" way. I am also concerned about student insularity. Students are not as aware of the world beyond the college as I think they should be.

5. How would you describe your role in the Hamilton community?

Very easy. I am a teacher.

6. Where do you see yourself and/or Hamilton ten years from now?

Ten years from now I see myself still here at Hamilton doing what I'm doing. I hope to have written two more books by then.

1. How many years have you spent at Hamilton and why did you choose to work here?

I have been at Hamilton for twenty five years. I was 37 when I left publishing to return to graduate school to earn my PhD and thought there would be more value in a small liberal arts school than in a university.

2. What is your favorite season of the year and why?

Spring, though we rarely ever have it.

3. Could you comment on any positive or negative changes that you currently see occurring at Hamilton?

I think students at Hamilton are cautious and not adventurous enough. I would like to see people concentrate less on grades and take more chances, be more willing to make mistakes.

4. When you think of Hamilton, what is the first concern that comes to mind? Could you offer any solutions or insights to this situation?

That students keep entering.

5. How would you describe your role in the Hamilton community?

As a teacher, I feel that I am like a pair of contact lenses: you may not be aware of my presence but I try to improve your vision.

6. Where do you see Hamilton ten years from now?

Ten years from now I think Hamilton will still be a good teaching college with good students.

College Choir and Orchestra

One of the most active artistic groups at Hamilton, the Hamilton College Choir made numerous appearances throughout the year both singly and in conjunction with other groups. They were also a central aspect of such important ceremonies as graduation and President Tobin's Inauguration. Under the direction of G. Roberts Kolb, the choir, in missionary fashion, toured the Northeast over Spring Break, bringing the sounds of Hamilton to communities off the Hill.

Although they did not have the opportunity to travel this year, the Hamilton College Orchestra was very busy. The Orchestra's Spring Concert included pieces composed by Ravel, Wagner, Tschaikovsky, Bruch , and Ives. The Orchestra also had the honor of performing a piece by the Japanese composer Honma, accompanied by Honma's wife on the piano.

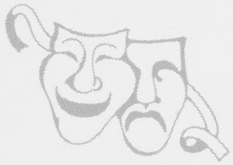
Theatre and Dance



1993-94 was a dynamic year for one of the unsung heroes of Hamilton performing arts--dancing. Professional dance troups like the Urban Bush Women combined with student workshops in areas like Salsa Meregue augmented a dance calender dominated by Hamilton artists. These artist's regular performances as members of the Student Dance Alliance culminated in a truly incredible Spring Dance Concert.

Over in Minor Theater students of a different type of art displayed their abilities. The year, sprinkled with various student and faculty run productions, was highlighted by the plays Mariage Blanc and Tis' Pity She's a Whore. The Alexander Hamilton Players also took the stage various times throughout the year to showcase the talents of student playwrites and directors.

Acoustic Coffeehouse

This year the brand-new Filius Events Barn was the scene of many forms of artistic expression. One frequent event was the Acoustic Coffeehouse. Occuring on Thursday nights, the Acoustic Coffeehouse provided a forum in which the Hamilton community could take a respite from a hectic week and enjoy folk music in an informal setting. While an audience sipped coffee, cider, and hot chocolate, they were entertained by both on-campus artists like Jen Shankman '94 and Karen Green and off-campus performers like Patty Griffin, Ellis Paul, and Ani DiFranco.

Similarly, the benefit concert for HAVOC's Habitat for Humanity trip to Florida was well-stocked with Hamilton's finest musicians. Organized by Christine Neufeld '96, the well-attended concert lasted over four hours, raised a lot of money for HAVOC, and demonstrated the incredible talent of Hamilton students.

It would not be appropriate to discuss art at Hamilton without talking about our three a capella groups. The all-female Special K, the co-ed Hamiltones, and the all-male Buffers spent the 93-94 year providing regular and humorous entertainment. For many Hamiltonians, having seen these singing groups on prospective weekend and again at Orientation, some of our first impressions of Hamilton and of life on the Hill were formed by their performances. From the lollipop sweetness of Special K to the traditional humor of the Hamiltones to the raunchiness of the Buffers, a show by our a cappela groups is a Hamilton experience not easily forgotten.

This year's team, with only two returning players in the top six, finished the season with a 6-7 record. Behind the leadership of two-year captain, Julie Tignor, many of the younger players reached personal goals and team goals as well. This should help the team in the 1994 season.

The first-team doubles combination of Julie Tignor '94 and Pepper Johnson '96 had some impressive wins over Union, Ithaca, and Hartwick. While in the singles lineup, Jane Taylor '96, Amy Lopatin '96, and Stacy Collander '97 made great strides in their match play throughout the season. With five of the top six singles players returning next fall, Coach Kelly McElroy says that she expects a winning season.

A season of extremes came to a close for the Hamilton college ice hockey team with a 4-3 loss to Salem (Mass.) State in the semifinals of the ECAC East playoff tournament. The loss snapped the Continentals' eight-game winning streak and ended their season with a 17-7-1 record, just one win shy of the school record of 18 wins in a season.

The team began the season auspiciously with a 6-0-1 burst, the school's best start in 73 years. The Continentals christened the newly renovated Sage Rink, the oldest indoor collegiate rink in the nation, by defeating eventual ECAC East regular season champion Williams, 5-2. On December 3, Hamilton officially dedicated the renovated Sage to the memory of legendary coaches Albert I. Prettyman and George Batt. The Continentals defeated St. Anselm's 3-1 in front of an overflow crowd of 1500 fans.

The Continentals late season surge vaulted them into the ECAC East playoffs for the second year in a row. The Continentals' strong showing leaves much optimism for the future, as tri-captains Rusty Feldman, Doug Famigletti, and Keith Clark are the only players who will be lost to graduation. The 1994-95 season should prove to be a strong one for the Buff and Blue because many experienced players will be returning.

TALSPORTS

Both the women's and men's indoor track teams had successful seasons. The men's team showed depth with many strong first-year sensations pulling off many unexpected victories. Qualifying for the state meet were senior Desmond Bailey in the 55 meter dash, Fred Kaelin in the 55 meter hurdles, and Jack Fortney in the 35 pound weight throw. The men's team was equally successful in long distance events as Jim Serhant qualified early in the season for the 5,000 meter race.

The women's team also sent many team members to the state meet. Tracy Nasta qualified in the high jump, Kara Davis in the 400 meter sprint, and senior Kathleen Cunnif in the 3,000 and 5,000 meter races. At the NYSWCAA Championships, the women finished in fifteenth place. Kathleen Cunnif led the team with a sixth place finish in the 5000 meter run. With the loss of only three seniors, the women expect another successful season next year.

Indoor Track

CONTINEN

The men's basketball team finished their season with a winning record of 17-9. They had high hopes going into the ECAC Tournament with a third seed placing. In the first round the men faced sixth seeded Union. The explosive offensive play and the impressive rebounding of the Continentals led the team to win by a score of 88-67. The next game against Binghamton proved to be a tougher match for the Continentals. The game went into two overtime periods before Hamilton suffered a disappointing loss, 78-81.

Frank D'Agata and Erin Mc Cann were selected to the ECAC Honor Roll for their efforts. D'Agata, Mc Cann, Joe Mrozienski and Chris Harper received various honors throughout the season with selection to the Hamilton Tip-off Classic All-Tournament Team, the Whaling City All-Tournament Team and the Hamilton Invitational All-Tournament Team. With the bulk of the starters returning next season, the success of the Basketball team is insured.

TALSPORTS

The women's basketball team came back from a 2-10 start to finish up the season with a respectable record of 9-15. Their final record reveals the growth of a young team consisting of only three seniors, one junior, and eleven sophomores and first-years.

Co-captains Pam Stone and Susan Coole provided leadership for the developing team. Pam Stone led the team in scoring by averaging 14.4 points and 8.0 rebounds per game. Susan Coole set a school record for number of assists in a four-year career with 281. First-year Jessica Levi was selected ECAC Rookie-of-the-Week during the season and led the team in rebounding in eleven of the last thirteen games.

The team will miss the leadership of Pam Stone, Susan Coole, and Bobbi Folsom once the three graduate this spring. However, the improvement and development of the young team this season along with the leadership of newly selected captains Marsha Foster and Kate Ryan should promise a great season next year.

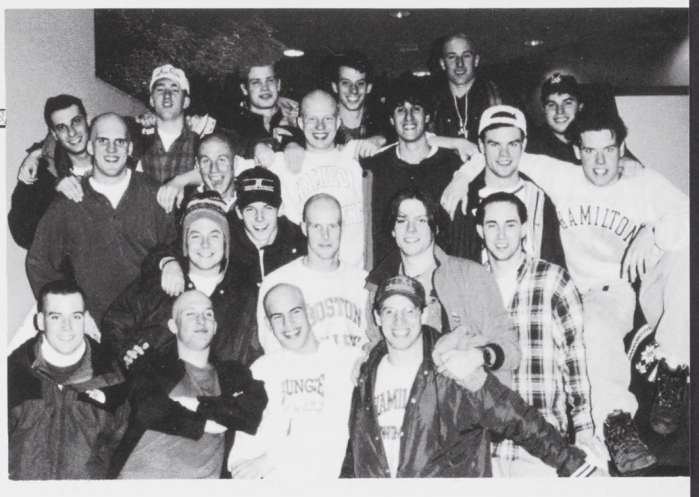
Women's Basketball

CONTINEN



For the Hamilton College swim teams, the 1993-94 season was a memorable one. The men's team finished with a 7-0 record, their first undefeated season since 1962. Also, their captain Jon Greene '95 finished the season as an All-American. The men's team won the title of Conference Champions, their first title since 1977. The women's team posted a record of 5-2 to finish the season. They also gave a fine performance at the championship meet, placing third among the competitors. The Lady Continentals boast an All-American in Liz Sichol '96. Overall, the Continentals had an excellent year with eighteen new school records and twelve national qualifiers. The accomplished swim teams are anxious for next season to begin.

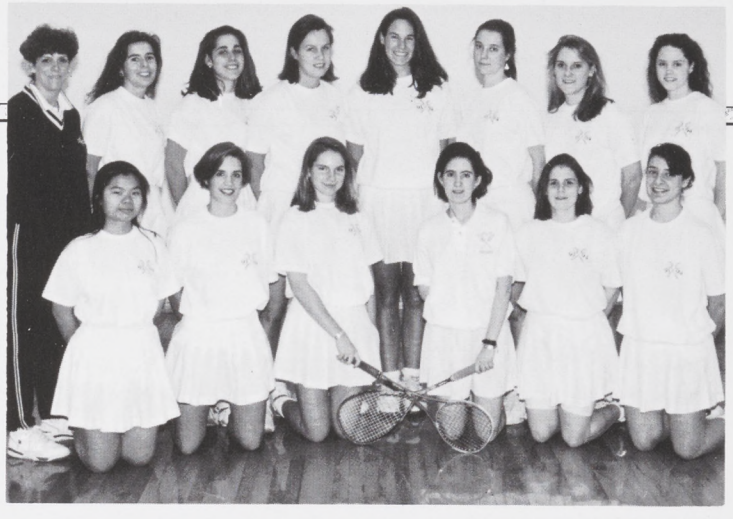
TALSPORTS



The men's squash team finished a successful season with a record of 11-9. The team was led by co-captains Scott Tucker and Mark Havens. Havens ended the season with a record of 11-7 and earned the coaches award. The young team consisting of five first-years exceeded all expectations. The first-years all lettered with impressive records. The team pulled together to make their third straight appearance at Team Intercollegiates for the first time in Hamilton history. They finished fourth in the C Division and 19th in the nation.

This season, the women's squash team achieved a season record of eight wins and ten losses. They were led by co-captains Holly Williams and Stacey Begg. Despite the lack of experience on the team, the season was a success. The team had two wins at the Williams tournament against the Williams B team and Tufts. The highlight of the season was the team's victory in the D Division at the Howe Cup.

CONTINEN

The Baseball team struggled early in the season but began to play to their poten tial as the season progressed. The weather posed problems for the Conti nentals, but in the last week of their season, the team showed great improvement and talent. Eric Macrina's powerful batting led the team's offense. Hamilton's determination despite a slow start was re-warded by impressive wins in the latter part of their sched-ule. The team looks forward to a new season next year with hopes for better weather.

The Women's Softball Team ended successful season with a 14-7 record. Despite poor weather, the team tied the school record for the most successful season with a 14-7 record. Next ear, the Continentals will miss the contributions of the our seniors: Beth Merle at centerfield, Carrie Kopriva at econd base, and co-captains Faith Morgan at third ase and Sarah De Forest at catcher. In their final eason, all turned in impressive fielding records while all it over .300. De Forest led the bunch as she batted over 400, and Morgan contributed clutch slugging performances to bring teammates into score. Sophomore risten Ring provided strong pitching, posting an impressive record of 9 wins and one loss. With many returning layers, the softball team looks forward to success next eason.

Travelling to Williams College for the NESCAC Track and Field championships proved to be disappointing for both the men's and women's teams. Although some impressive performances were tallied by Adrianne Levin '96, Shelley Bishop '96, Tami Koch '96, and Kathleen Cunniff '94 the women's team ended up last in the eleven team field. There were three school records set on the women's team. A new record for the hammer was set by Linda Smallen at 20.62m. The 4X800m team of Adrianne Levin, Shelley Bishop, Tami Koch, and Kathleen Cunniff set a new Hamilton record with a time of 10:03.31. The team MVP was Tami Koch and the MIP was Brenda McCabe. The Freshman of the Year Award went to Laticia Howard.

The men's Continental track and field squad didn't fair much better in the championships placing tenth out of eleven teams. However, there seemed to be three individual superstars at the meet. David Brunk '96, Tom Capo '97, and James Grinwis '94. The MVP of the team was Dave Brunk and the MIP was Sam Hoffman. The Freshman of the Year Award went to Tom Capo. Other contributions were made to the Continental team by Chip Gibbons '96 who placed fourth in the pole vault.

Going into the NESCAC competition, the men's tennis team hoped to dominate. However, with the unexpected injury of the team leader, Isik Okte '94 the team's morale was deflated. Finishing ninth out of eleven teams at NESCAC was very disappointing for the Continental team. Luckily, this wasn't reflective of their season as a whole. With an overall record of 16-7, the team received strong contributions from the likes of Isik Okte '94, Rob Pickles '94,Greg Hills '94, and Sam Walker '96. Facing the loss of such strong senoirs as Okte, Pickles, and Hills, the Continental team is planning a strong comeback next season with the help of Walker, J.W. Hobson '97, and Mark Silbersher '97.

CONTINENT

The men's lacrosse team got off to a slow start this season, losing their first seven games. Considering the fact that the team plays in one of the best regions for Division III lacrosse, the team took these defeats in stride. Instead, they fought for their first victory of the season which came against Elmira. This game was the turning point for the Continentals this season, as they went on to win two of their last three games to finish with a record of 3-8. Senior captain Slater Carberry led the Continental attack all season. He was the team leader in both goals and assists. Anthony Cunningham, this year's starting goalie, improved tremendously as the season progressed, and will be a force to be reckoned with next season. The team eagerly awaits next year's challenge because of the experience gained by Cunningham, and other young players.

Men's Lacrosse

TALSPORTS

Despite their rocky start in Florida over spring break, the women's lacrosse team finished a winning season with the record of 8-6. Underclass sensations such as Mandy Morrison, Liz Lowman, and Becky Egan helped lead the team to a fifth seed in the N.Y.S.W.C.A.A. Veteran goalie Ashley Wilberding also provided a solid rock on which this young team could build.

At the State Tournament, the Lady Continentals made it past the first round, and then faced an undefeated William Smith squad. Unfortunately, William Smith proved to be too much, and the team finished third. The women did, however, earn valuable experience which will serve them well in coming years.

Not only should the varsity team be congratulated for their winning season, but the junior varsity players must be commended as well. The JV team finished the '94 season with an undefeated record. With their motivation and skills, next season will be remarkable!

Activities

Student Assembly

All executive and legislativeStudent Body is vested in the Student Assembly of Hamilton College. The Central Council of Student Assembly serves as its executive branch. The purpose of the Central Council is to encourage, initiate, and coordinate services essential to the Student Body. The Central Council also passes legislation consistent with the Student Body and serves as liaison to the administration, faculty, and staff.

Amnesty International

Amnesty International was created in 1961 to protect human rights and to help ensure adherence to the U.N. Declaration. The organization is impartial and its mandate is "to seek the release of men, women, and children detained for their beliefs, color, sex, ethnic origin, language or religion, provided they have not used or advocated violence; to work for prompt and fair trials for all political prisoners; and to oppose the death penalty and torture without reservation." Hamilton College is in the Utica chapter of Amnesty International.

Conservative Club

An organization "for individuals with conservative viewpoints," the Conservative Club serves as a vehicle for expressing socially and philosophically conservative opinion and for stimulating discussion.

Peer Advising

The Peer Advisor Program facilitates positive personal development. Student volunteers provide an alternative resource for their peers who need to talk out problems and concerns. The services provided include face-to-face appointments, a weekly column in the Spectator called "Mind Matters," and educational workshops. Student volunteers receive ongoing training covering a wide spectrum of issues that range from basic counseling techniques to stress management, anxiety, eating disorders, and relationships.

Asian Cultural Society

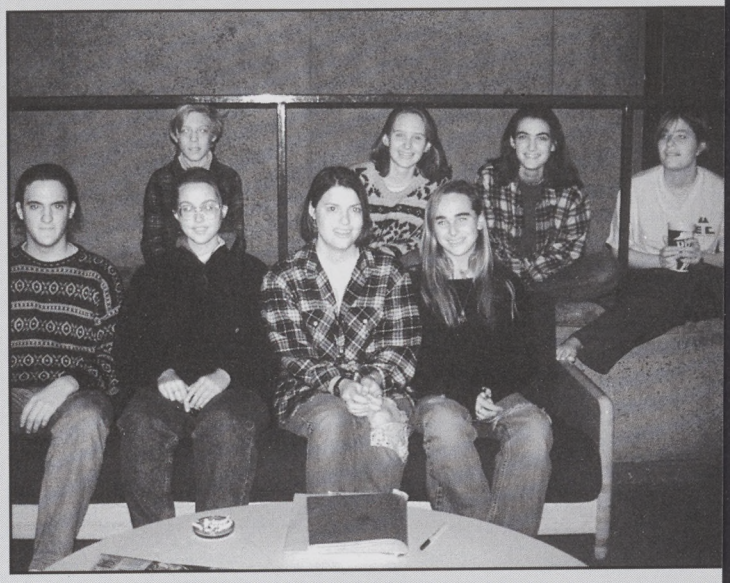
The Asian Cultural Society has continued to be a spirited organization aiming to increase Asian Culture awareness on campus, community service, lectures, movies, and various celebrations that A.C.S. offers are presently, and traditionally strong contributions to the community. We have enjoyed many new faces throughout the year which adds to the diversity our club stand for, and to the enthusiam our members hold.

HAVOC

HAVOC (Hamilton Action Volunteer Outreach Coalition) was founded in 1988 by a group of students dedicated to "wreaking HAVOC on apathy". In just five years, HAVOC has grown into one of the largest organizations on campus. The goal of HAVOC is to raise awareness of social issues and to encourage student volunteerism with grassroots service agencies in the area. This year 240 Hamilton students were involved with HAVOC's 24 weekly service projects.

HEAG

The purpose of the Environmental Action Group is to research and provide solutions for environmental problems on campus and in the surrounding community, and to increase awareness about the problems involved.

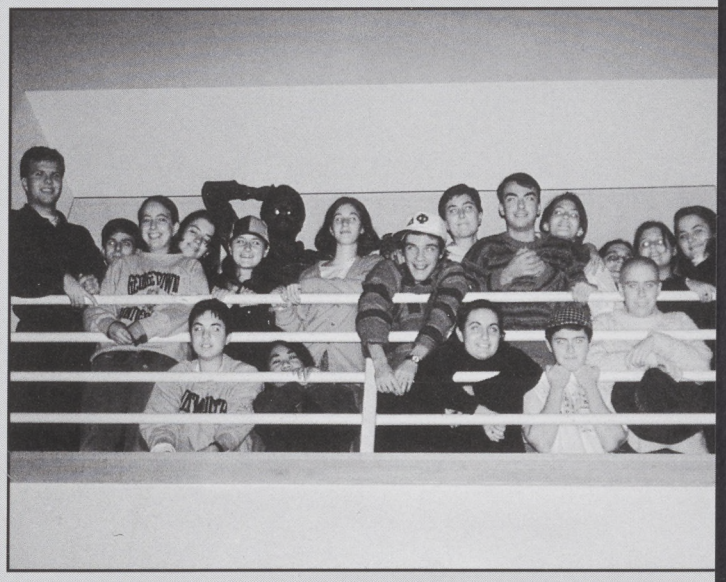


Womyn's Center

The Womyn's Center is dedicated to the support of women in the Hamilton community and in the world. It is a group of people working together to provide speakers, panels, films, and entertainment.

GLBSA

The GLBSA was established to provide mutual support for gay, lesbian, and bisexual members of the Hamilton community. It attempts to act as an avenue of expression for any Hamilton student, bisexual, gay, lesbian, or heterosexual, who wishes to become more vocal and educated about issues affecting gays, lesbians, and bisexuals.



Afro-Latin Cultural Center

The Black and Latin Student Union exists to heighten the cultural awareness of Hamilton students and increase the self-awareness of its members regarding the realities of the minority experience. The Union creates an atmosphere in which Black and Latin students may informally interact with each other, and express personal, social, and academic problems they may encounter. Through programming of activities and events, the Union works to project a realistic image of Black and Latin students in a predominantly white society.

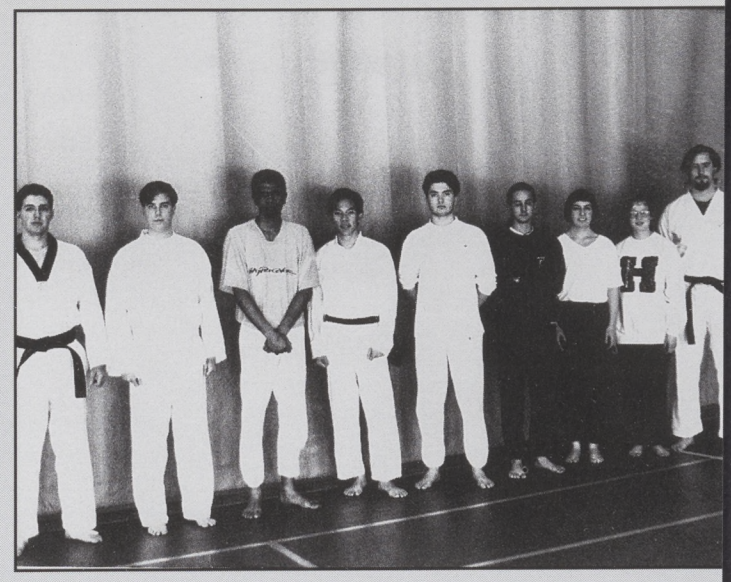
Newman Council

The Newman Council is a group of Catholic students with representatives from each class. The organization sponsors social events, promotes a sense of community for Catholic students, and performs community service for Hamilton and the surrounding area.

Hamilton Men Against Sexual Harassment

Ths group of men from within the Hamilton community addresses the issue of sexual assault and harassment on campus and in society. The group exists to educate both men and women about sexual assault and harassment. It provides workshops in residence halls and fraternities and distributes a series of educational materials. In addition, the group sponsors speakers, provides a support group for men dealing with the issue, and engages in ongoing education for themselves.

Martial Arts



Hamilton Republicans

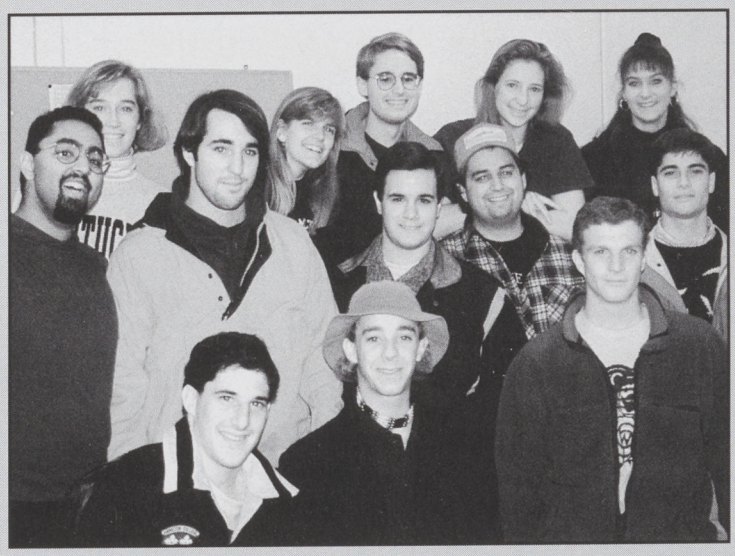
Hillel

Hillel provides religious and cultural services for Hamilton's Jewish community. Hillel offers High Holyday services, Friday evening Sabbath services, and onegs. A communal Sukkah, a large community Seder, and Sunday bagel brunches with programs and speakers are also sponsored by Hillel.

CAPE

CAPE promotes reponsible, informed decision-making about the use of alcohol through campus wide programs, training, and the sponsoring of alcohol-free social events. In addition, CAPE develops programs for National Alcohol Awareness Week and New Student Orientation.

EMT's



La Vanguardia

Formed and organized by Latin students in 1984, La Vanguardia educates the Hamilton community about the political situations and diverse cultures of Central America, South America, and the Caribbean. It co-sponsors a Latino Awareness Celebration and brings to campus various Latin bands, dance groups, films and lectures about Latin America.

Special K

Special K is an eight-voice , women's close-harmony group begun at Kirkland College in 1974. The group participates both on and off the hill and also participates in concerts around the New England area.

The Buffers

The Buffers is an a cappella octet singing group that combines traditional barbershop quartet music with new, innovative lyrics. The group performs on and off campus. Every year the Buffers organize various concerts in conjunction with Special K as well as singing groups from other surrounding colleges.

The Hamiltones

The Hamiltones, a group of songsters, is "the new kid on the Hill" as far as the a cappella groups are concerned. Like Special K and the Buffers, the Hamiltones mix musical skill with humor. They also tour and perform with other groups all over groups all over the Northeast.

Women's Rugby

Hamilton Women's Rugby says playing in the mud is not just for kids! As a club sport, it has grown stronger and more popular over the past few years. With its growing popularity, Women's Rugby is being taken more seriously and attracting a large number of serious athletes. The past two seasons have been very successful, and look forward to a promising future at Hamilton.

Men's Rugby

Crew

The Hamilton Crew has tremendous support and momentum and its members have participated successfully against established programs at other schools. Often facing great odds in competition, the Crew team has overcome foes with courage and determination.

Residential Life

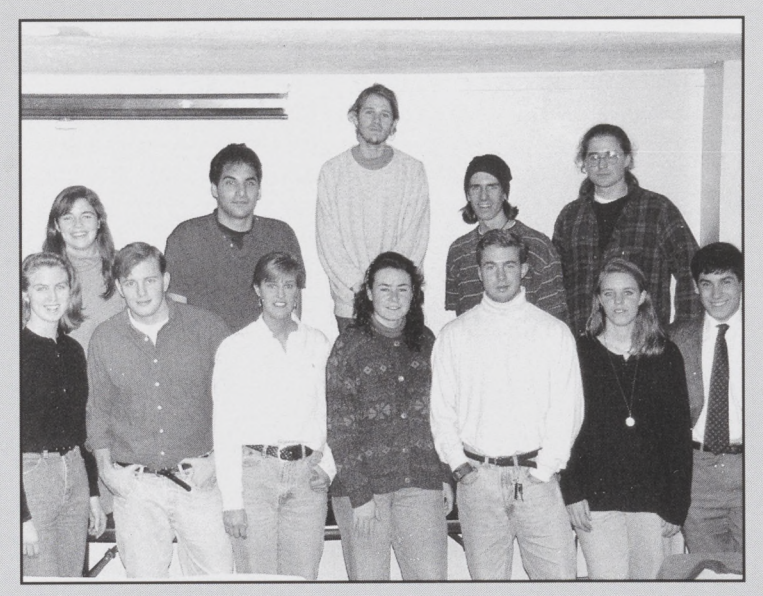
The Publications Board oversees all Hamilton student publications and the college radio station. The Board approves budgets and selects editors-in-chief as well as WHCL's manager. It also reviews all issues released by each publication and serves as an advisory committee to all the editors.

WHCL

WHCL-FM made its big transition this year from the cryptic basement of Minor Theater to a bright, spacious studio in Bristol. Our music library has expanded, we're broadcasting more sporting events, and have more listeners than ever! Keep your dial tuned to 88.7!



Spectator

The Spectator is Hamilton College's weekly newspaper. It is written and produced entirely by students, and it features campus news, events, arts, sports, film reviews, editorials, and a special "Attitudes" section. The staff is comprised of over twenty students who direct writing, layout, photography, and advertising.

Hamiltonian

The goal of the yearbook is to give students something to remember Hamilton by, as well as to summarize and provide commentary on events of their college years through photographs and short articles.

Chi Psi

Delta Kappa Epsilon

In the past year, the brothers of Delta Kappa Epsilon have made some incredible strides to improve our role on campus. We expanded our philanthropy efforts to include daily visits to an emergency foster care home, Big Brothers/Big Sisters of Utica, the Holiday Project, Adopt-a-Highway, cookouts and more! We improved our relationships with our alumni and increased our undergraduate membership to about sixty-five men. We published an alumni directory to get the men more involved with Hamilton, and improved our relations with DKE International.

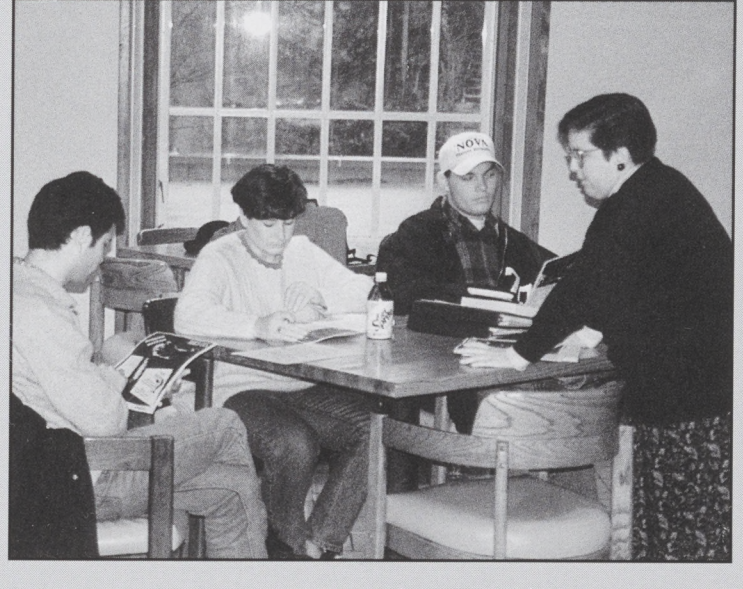
Pentagon

Pub Committee

The Pub Committee has worked to diversify the social life at Hamilton. It has sponsored several events, including live bands and student performers. This year Pub Nights have been extremely successful and the Committee hopes to expand its program for upcoming years..



Swim Relay

On October 23, 1993, Hamilton College attempted to bring the record for the longest continuous swim relay back to the Bristol Swimming Pool. Participation was open to people of the Hamilton community, as well as to anyone else who may have been interested. In an effort to get several non-students to swim, the event was planned for Parent's Weekend. Attempting to get the community involved the Swim Relay Committee, which consisted of approximately fifty students, also went into town to the schools and businesses trying to get more participants.

Despite several good attempts, things did not go as well as the committee had hoped. The relay was planned to last twenty-four hours, but fell two hours short. In addition, the number of people that signed up to participate did not all show up. The number of people that did show up fell a litle short of one-thousand. This was less than half the amount needed to break the record.

Despite the fact that Hamilton did not get put back in the Guiness Book of World Records for the event, several good things still came out of the day. The main benefit was that money was raised for Special Olympics, through tee-shirt sales. Overall, the day was viewed as an enjoyable one by all the people involved.

Editors' Notes

Finally, the end of it all!!! So many times we hoped that we could finish the book without going completely crazy, although we know that we had to be insane to take on this task. Now that the book is finished, we can look back on those frantic deadlines and laugh, right? Anyway, we certainly learned a lot, though we hope that we will never have to use any of this knowledge again.

Marty, we think that you might have a future in used car sales. How did you ever persuade us to do this??? Although you deserted us for the second semester to milk cows in Israel, we really appreciated your optimism and creative ideas. (Marty's yearbook for the visually impaired?!?) Thank you so much for your help and encouragement: we'll never forget you!

Alec, where would we have been without you? You were our professional photographer and also our moral support after Marty took off. Thanks for getting all of those last minute assignments and for rushing to develop film at a moment's notice. Your picture for the table of contents is beautiful! We wish you the best of luck, Schmoov! (What does Schmoov mean, anyway??)

Tracy, "John-Jay", Jen, Megan, Jay, Nicole, Sarah, MaryLynn, and Kurt, you are the best! We never thought that we would be able to find a staff that would survive the year. Thank you for all of your dedication, hard work, and energy. Despite all of the hassles, everything is FINISHED and looks fantastic! We hope you agree that all of the hours you spent on the third floor of Bristol have paid off. (Okay, maybe not all of the hours.) Sarah, Jay, Megan, and Jen - good luck next year; we hope that this book brings you fond memories of your four years on the hill!

John, the book would have been a fiasco if it weren't for your patience and guidance. You knew that we were in over our heads, but always helped us along. Thank you very much!

We would also like to thank Jim D'Aleo and the Spectator photographers for allowing us to "borrow" their photos in times of desperation. We thank Lisa Schreiner for her many contributions to the color section, Frank Lorenz for his cooperation and contribution of photos, and Bev Low for her untiring support. Also, we thank anyone who didn't believe that two sophomores had enough experience to produce a yearbook. We enjoyed proving you wrong!
